Hey Sonja and Heather,

Thanks for the staff report. There is one piece of information that needs corrected. In the report it says that there are a few sheds on the property. I understand why you made this mistake because they are shown in the satellite image. However, in February of this year my sauna caught fire and burned down both the sauna and the wood shed. It was actually one of the moments that inspired me to build the shop. The only outbuilding currently on the property is the 10' by 10' greenhouse in the middle of the garden. Again, thanks for the report and have a great night.
