

Request For Qualifications
Architectural/Engineering/Planning Services
Thurston County Corrections Facility Flex Unit
Project No. 25FLX

I. Background and Organization

In 2015, the County moved detention functions from the Courthouse Jail (old jail) to the Accountability & Restitution Center (ARC), which is now newly renamed the Thurston County Corrections Facility (TCCF). The old Jail is still utilized on a limited basis for court transfers from the TCCF. The County has continued to pursue a mix of jail population management strategies. In 2016, the Board determined to proceed with one component of these strategies – increasing the TCCF’s capacity in order to house roughly 110-120 additional specialized/medium-high security inmates. This expansion is commonly known as the Flex Unit.

Over the years, the County has experienced more rapid growth in specialized medium to high security inmates than in low security inmates. This has resulted in the County exceeding its high security inmate capacity at the TCCF. As a result, it has affected operational standards to effectively house and treat inmates.

A Central Services Capital Project Manager will work with selected consultants and user groups to meet the project goals. The lead agency for the project will be Thurston County Central Services.

II. Project Goal

The TCCF was conceived to be built and expanded in phases over time as the County’s detention needs changed. We are interested in creating additional space to serve current and future system needs that efficiently house single cell medium to high security inmates. This space needs to have flexibility across various inmate categories as they arise. The County also needs to complete analysis, redesign and improvements to the site’s storm water management system. The estimated total funds available for the project is $13 million. We are committed to innovative approaches to addressing correction and facility needs, while maintaining the maximum number of programs that serve as alternatives to incarceration.

III. Project Approach

A TCCF Flex Unit Project Oversight Committee consisting of a representative from the Public Information Office, Public Works, County Corrections, Central Services IT and Facilities, who will provide guidance and direction to the Capital Project Manager. Additionally, there will be a TCCF Flex Unit Project Management Team consisting of Thurston County Central Services Director, Capital Project Manager, Facilities Management and Thurston County Sheriff’s office, hereafter known as the Thurston County Project Team.

The County will contract with a justice facility design-focused consultant to work with the Capital Project Manager and all stakeholders in development and implementation of the Scope of Services noted below. The Design will be accomplished with full engagement of the above noted County Teams.

IV. Scope of Work

The firm selected will, under the direction of Thurston County Central Services, complete the following activities:

Planning, Design and Engineering Services:

- Review existing justice system space use and space-related operations.
- Develop alternative approaches to space in the context of appropriate state/national standards.
 - a. Incorporate the stakeholder's decisions into the plan.
 - Key Sheriff's Operational Points need to circumvent factual unbalanced inmate population. Focus on sequencing of staff allocation through use of flexible structural placement and site line preparedness.
 - Step down housing. Develop for inmates transitioning from maximum security into dormitory minimum security setting.
 - Design geared toward providing specialized housing, for inmates in close observation/suicide watch. Provide housing for female high custody inmates. Provide housing for maximum custody mails.
 - Key Facility Maintenance Points need to functionally reduce impact on sheriff department assistance and improve ticket turnaround, by decreasing physical access limitations and provide adequate and dedicated space for logistical in house maintenance management.
 - Utility maintenance accessibility in non-inmate populated areas.
 - Utility and maintenance chases and storage on main floor, exterior of building accessibility.
 - Key Stormwater Operational Points need to coordinate with system modifications being engineered separately to meet regulatory requirements and expanded facility needs.
 - b. Gather best practices/lessons learned from current/past projects and incorporate into design alternatives presentation with Thurston County Project Team.
 - c. Show evidence of an affective and valued engineered approach while working with the project's capital and operational resource constraints.
 - d. Provide a detailed recommendation.
- Provide schematic design, design development, construction documents that assesses space and program needs, based on the following criteria:
 - a. Functional/Design Program - Identify the activities of each operational area i.e. inmate quarters, staff operations, special needs (might be relative to adjacencies, medical, mental health or logistical needs), client/attorney meeting space, facilities maintenance and operations space, and integration with existing food service, laundry, and other building spaces and systems.

- b. Space Program - Space standards with alternatives. Standards and alternatives for each operational activity. Space program for full, 110-115-bed expansion. Needs assessment to fulfill program development structured to minimize both the capital and operating costs of the expansion and how it affects entire facility, while meeting our space needs. Programs shall be based upon ACA space standards and shall include linkages and inter-relationships of the special components i.e. the kitchen in relationship to the loading dock).

Cost Estimates:

Provide cost estimates for the proposed facility as part of design phase. Additionally, estimates shall be prepared at the end of schematic design, design development and at the completion of construction documents, to confirm that the project is on budget. The project shall be designed to minimize the facility life cycle cost and maximize flexibility through future population trends.

- Capital Cost Estimate:
 - a. Prepare a capital cost estimate to confirm the space program 110-115 jail beds, capable of double bunking to 230. The cost estimate shall include square foot costs for each type of space and shall include comparisons with the actual costs for similar detention projects.

Coordination:

Work with the Thurston County Project Management Team during both the early part of schematic design (November 2017 – January 2018) and totality of the design process, to ensure all elements of the process and space programs are accurately incorporated into the building design, to accommodate incorporation into existing facility. Consultant will be required to hold weekly coordination meetings, outlining process, while taking comments and questions from Management team and strategic partners.
